CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

The commissioners of election will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the office of the clerk of the court N. S. Greenaway, and canvass the vote cast in yesterday's election.

About twenty-five men in the old draft last night underwent the medical examination at the rooms of the local draft board. These men, as soon as classified will be sent to different cantonments.

The funeral of John F. Peyton will take place at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the residence of his son Courtland F. Peyton, 207 Gibbon street and services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. P. P. Phillips, rector of St. Paul's P. E. Church.

Mrs J. T. Hayden has received a letter from her son, Corporal Theron R. Hayden, now overseas, that he is in the base hospital suffering from wounds which he received in the great battle on October 8 along the Meuse River.

"TARZAN OF THE APES"

Darwin was right, all right. But he never graded the degrees of descent. Edgar Rice Burroughs made some attempt at grading in his "Tarzan of the Apes," which is now in motion picture form at the Broadway Theatre. He runs the gamut this way—drunken sailors, brutal ship officers, slave traders and finally aristocrats. The apes really rank highest. Even the boy brought up by the apes ranks head and shoulders above his aristocrat relative. There are no class lines, no national lines, no mutual exploitation among our ancestors.

"Tarzan of the Apes" is bully adventure. Wild beasts roam through the scenes; a kindly elephant takes the wild man upon his back; in short, mix Stevenson's "Treasure Island" with Captain Baker's African stories and the happy combination is struck. The joy of the film lies in its kindly wild life rather than its civilized brutality. And in putting Burroughs' story into the film the National Film Corporation has shown good sense of showmanship. "Tarzan of the Apes" is better than most films which have been concocted for the screen, and credit must be given Scott Sidney, who staged it, and Isidor Bernstein, who edited it. Natural beauties, imagination and clean, free spirit make the film a delight.

ATTENTION!

Cartons in which to ship Christmas presents overseas are ready for distribution. The auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce will be open Monday, Tuesday and Friday of next week from 3 to 5 p. m. for the purpose of distributing these cartons to those who have received their labels from overseas.

Mrs. Charles Aubrey Callahan,
Chairman.

INCREASED WATER RATE

Alexandria Water Company Put Into Operation New Rates Effective Nov. 1—Permission to Increase Granted by State Corporation Commission.

The increased water rates for water served by the Alexandria Water Company were put into operation November 1 according to bills for water received today by consumers.

The new rates are as follows: For one spigot, for dwellings, stores or offices, $10. The old rate in most of the smaller houses and stores was $6 a year; for each water closet $4 a year which is an increase of $1 over the old rates; for each bath tub, $4 a year which is an increase of $1 over the old rates; for each set laundry tub, $2.50 a year; for each set wash basin, $1.50 a year and for each hose connection, $3 a year.

The commission also has granted this company permission to make a further increase of a flat rate of $12 a year for one connection upon the completion of its filteration plant.

An increase also is noted in the meter rates of the company. The city council some time ago considered appealing the case.

The order of the commission sets forth that these rates shall be in force for a period of two years from September 1, 1918.

A LIGHT VOTE POLLED

In Election Yesterday in City Only 446 Votes Were Cast Which is One Fourth Less Than Voting Strength—Candidates Unopposed.

In the election here yesterday 446 votes were polled. The candidates Senator Thomas S. Martin and Representative Charles C. Carlin, the last named being the Democratic nominee for the House of Representatives from the Eighth Congressional District, were unopposed.

This vote is less than one fourth of the city's voting strength and the paucity of the vote is accounted for because the candidates were unopposed. Both candidates received practically the same vote.

The vote by wards was as follows: First, 108 second, 112; third, 97; fourth, 112.

As heretofore stated this will be Representative Carlin's sixth consecutive term in Congress.

Reports received here from the other countries comprising the eighth district indicate that a light vote was pulled in all of the counties.

HUNS NAME COMMITTEE

Government Issues Proclamation Urging People to Maintain Order and Not Delay Peace—Riotous Outbreaks.

Amsterdam, Nov. 6.—The German government has appointed a committee to deal with armistice negotiations, according to reports received here today. It includes Admiral von Hintze, former foreign minister; Admiral Houres, General Gruedell, and General Winterfell.

The government has issued a proclamation, urging the people to maintain order, if they do not wish to delay peace. The proclamation recites the reforms undertaken since the new government was created, and appeals to the people to unite for an honorable peace.

London, Nov. 6.—Revolutionary outbreaks are reported from all parts of the German empire, said an Amsterdam dispatch to the Daily Express today.

Soldiers in the garrison at Berlin mutinied and shouted down with the Kaiser." The police fraternized with the mutineers.

It is understood that Bavaria will act separately if the armistice terms are rejected.

South Germany is in panic and there are rumors that an invasion is imminent through Austria.

The German government has issued a statement to allay these fears saying that there is no immediate danger. The statement adds that the government, the army, and the navy want peace soon, but "until then the frontiers must be protected."

PIERCE RAILROAD NET

Allies Make Rapid Advances on Western Front—Ghent Surrounded—British Now a Few Miles From Mons.

London, Nov. 6.—Haig's armies carried the war of liberation across the Franco-Belgian frontier yesterday west of the Mons-Maubeuge line.

The Germans last night were retreating along a front of seventy miles. Haig's forces crossed the Belgo-French frontier between Valenciennes and Bavai and are between one and two miles west of the latter town.

From the east of Mormal forest their line now runs through the Nouvron forest, where it joins the French front down to a point two miles east of Guise, to Sains, to Clermont, to Chateau-Porcien. In that sector the French yesterday advanced a mile and occupied the road from Stenay to Le Chesne.

The great forest of Morval, the most formidable natural bulwark barring the way toward the fortress of Maubeuge is completely in British hands.

The British line last night stands immediately west of Bavai, an important rail town only six miles west of Maubouge.

The whole elaborate railway net fronting the Mons-Maubeuge sector has been pierced by Haig's forces.

At the British Front, Nov. 6.—With Ghent surrounded and soon to fall into the hands of the Belgians the whole allied front last night was electrified by the news of the fresh progress made in the great British attack launched Monday and continued yesterday.

The British are now comparatively few miles from Mons, the scene of the historic retreat in 1914.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL WOMAN IN THE WORLD

Every man who has a beautiful wife should see Lina Cavalieri in "A Woman of Impulse." at the Richmond tonight. Never were the perpetual perils of beauty better illustrated The green-eyed monster of jealousy bestrides the husband's life, until he wishes he had married a girl whose beauty was of the soul rather than of the body.

This wonderful picture will give all married couples food for thought—to the single it is thick with hints of the dramatic deeps in fife ahead of them.

Also a two-reel Mack Sennet comedy entitled "She Loved Him Plenty" will be shown.

WAR WORK CAMPAIGN

Local Committee Will Meet Tomorrow Night in Rooms of Chamber of Commerce and Complete Plans for Big Drive Which Begins Monday.

An Alexandria man just returned from France brings news from the boys "Over There" and in the glory of it all he tells of the nerve racked men who have been into the mouth of hell and who because of the tensity of the work they have been engaged in need now and will continue to need the care of the organizations which have issued a call for funds to supply the possible comforts for the soldiers during the establishment of peace. The seven allied activities, all endorsed by the Government are combined for the United War Campaign, with the budget distributed as follows:

Young Men's Christian Association $100,000,000.

Young Women's Christian Association $15,000,000.

National Catholic War Council (including the work of the Knights of Columbus and special war activities for women $30,000,000.

Jewish Welfare Board $3,500,000.

American Library Association $15,000,000.

War Camp Community Service, $15,000,000.

Salvation Army $3,500,000.

These budgets were carefully figured by each organization and approved by all. It is a United Campaign to secure the amount of money necessary to contribute the essential comforts for the men in camp and on and near the battle lines. The winning of victory has cost much in the lives lost and those at home should give freely in acknowledgment of the service done. Soldiers can get relief but it takes the United effort of great organizations to supply recreation.

Tomorrow evening the campaign committee will meet at the Chamber of Commerce and discuss the details of the campaign for next week. The work of this committee can be made easy by every one thinking about his or her individual debt due the soldiers and sailors and promptly deciding to do his or her part in meeting this pressing need.

Every citizen is asked and urged to contribute in money and influence to the success of the Alexandria Campaign for $30,000 60.

"Don't call it "charity!" It's due "the boys!" Give to the United War Work Campaign!

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of Edward D'Oyley Northrop, aged 32, who departed this life on October 5, 1918.

God in his wisdom has recalled
The boon his love had given;
And though the body moulder here
The soul is safe in heaven.
By his brother, Allyne Northrop.

IN MEMORIAM

Of E. D. Northrup, who died in France of pneumonia October 5, 1918.

I often sit and think of you
When I am all alone.
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.

If we had seen you at the last
And held your dying hand,
And heard the last sigh from your heart,
We would not feel so bad.

We did not know the pain you bore,
We did not see you die;
We only know you passed away,
And never said good-bye.

A Friend.

MUST APPLY TO FOCH

Note to Germany Tells Her Armistice Terms Are Ready If She Cares to Consider Them—Huns Appoint Committee of Conference

Germany may have the armistice terms agreed upon by representatives of the United States and the allied governments by applying to Marshal Foch.

This information to the enemy is included in a message by President Wilson, which was sent to Germany last night by the State Department Before nightfall today the world may know whether the war will end before the week is up.

In addition to the armistice information is the allies announcement, in the note, of their acceptance of the President's program as a basis of peace. This action gives the President in the opinion of officials here, his greatest triumph. In spite of opposition in this country to his peace program—opposition which administration officials term "more noisy than general"—the cobelligerents of the United States have announced they will follow the President's lead in making peace.

The complete text of the note to Germany follows:

From the Secretary of State to the Minister of Switzerland, in charge of German interests in the United States.

Department of State,
November 5, 1918.

I have the honor to request you to transmit the following communication to the German government:

"In my note of October 23, 1918, advised you that the President had transmitted his correspondence with the German authorities to the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as a belligerent, with the suggestion that, if those governments were disposed to effect peace upon the terms and principles indicated, their military advisers and the military advisers of the United States be asked to submit to the governments associated against Germany the necessary terms of such an armistice as would fully protect the interests of the peoples involved and insure to the associated governments the unrestricted power to safeguard and enforce the details of the peace to which the German government had agreed, provided they deemed such an armistice possible from the military point of view.

"The allied governments have given careful consideration to the correspondence which has passed between the President of the United States and the German government. Subject to the qualifications which follow they declare their willingness to make peace with the government of Germany on the terms of peace laid down in the President's address to Congress of January, 1918, and the principles of settlement enurciated in his subsequent addresses. They must point out, however, that clause 2, relating to what is usually described as the freedom of the seas, is open to various interpretations, some of which they could not accept. They must, therefore reserve to themselves complete freedom on this subject when they enter the peace conference.

"Further, in the conditions of peace laid down in his address to Congress of January 8, 1918, the President declared that invaded territories must be restored as well as evacuated and that no doubt ought to be allowed to exist as to what this provision implies. By it they understand that compensation will be made by Germany for all damage done to the civilian population of the allies and their property by the aggression of Germany by land, by sea and from the air"

I am instructed by the President to say that he is in agreement with the interpretation set forth in the last paragraph of the memorandum above quoted. I am further instructed by the President to request you to notify the German government that Marshal Foch has been authorized by the government of the United States and the allied governments to receive properly accredited representatives of the German government, and to communicate to them the terms of an armistice.

Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

(Signed) Robert Lansing.

Mr. Hans Sulzer,
Minister of Switzerland,
In charge of German interests in the United States.

MAYOR OF QUAKER CITY EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

Philadelphia, Nov 6.—"It pleases me very much to have the opportunity of expressing for myself and the city appreciation of the services of his Grace, Archbishop Dougherty, and the Sisters in connection with the present epidemic. The epidemic came upon us so suddenly and developed so rapidly that there was no time for preparation and the help which was so urgently needed to cope with the conditions had to be afforded promptly. Our call for help not only received ready and prompt response on the part of the Archbishop, but the help and assistance at once afforded by His Grace and the nuns was of the kind which was immediately effective. There were no means at the command of His Grace which he did not place immediately at the disposal of the health authorities. The prompt opening of those buildings within the jurisdiction of the Archbishop as emergency hospitals and the equipment of them placed at our disposal facilities which we needed so urgently and which beyond any doubt resulted in the saving of innumerable lives. In this connection, most commendable service was rendered by the Philopatrian Club.

"I have never seen a greater demonstration of real charity or selfsacrifice than has been given by the Sisters in their nursing of the sick, irrespective of the creed or color of the victims, wherever the nuns were sent. I look upon the services rendered by the Archbishop and the nuns as one of the most potent aids in making the headway we have toward getting control of the epidemic.

"It has been my pleasure to personally express to the Archbishop my grateful appreciation for the splendid services rendered."

STOLEN CARS RECOVERED

Three Soldiers And Woman Held for Washington Police

Frederick, Md., Nov. 5.—Motor Vehicle Commissioner E. Rustin Baughman recovered two cars, one near Braddock Heights and the other in this city Monday, that had been stolen in Washington. Three boys under 14 years, who occupied one car and three soldiers and a young woman in the other, are in the custody of Sheriff Klipp, awaiting the arrival of Washington officials.

About the same time word was received from Washington that a car with a Virginia license 68743 had been stolen in that city. While standing on Court street Colonel Baughman noticed a Ford limousine carrying a Virginia license approaching. He stopped the car, and a soldier, driving gave the name of White. Two other soldiers and a young woman were in the car. A message from Washington later stated that the soldier's name is Wood and that all three of them are from Camp Humphreys, Va. The car carried the license tag and otherwise corresponded with the stolen car. After the four were given over to the sheriff it was learned that they had stopped at the City Hotel Sunday night, registered under assumed names and left without paying their board.

ROSES SENT TO MARTIN

Friends Congratulate Virginia Senator on His Reelection

Senator Martin, the Democratic leader of the Senate, yesterday received a large box of American Beauties from friends in Virginia, with the following note:

"We want to congratulate you upon being reelected to the Senate, without opposition.

"After your many years in the Senate, it must be gratifying to you, as it is to us, to know that all of the people of Virginia appreciate your services to the State and to the Nation."

If Senator Martin serves out the term for which he was reelected yesterday, he will have served 30 years in the Senate.

YESTERDAY'S ELECTION

Republicans May be Three Ahead, While Senate Vote Also Shows Loss by Present Administration.

The returns thus far today seem to indicate the Republicans will have fifty out of ninety-six seats in the Senate and that they will, after March 4, have the House by a substantial working majority.

New York, Nov. 6.—The vote of 45,000 soldiers in camps in this country is expected to decide the winner of the gubernatorial race in New York, On the face of returns early this morning Governor Whitman, Republican, has been elected by a scant majority. But the soldier vote, which Democrats claim will go for their candidate, Alfred E. Smith, is very likely to upset Whitman's margin.

The Republicans, in the net result have apparently gained seven seats in the Senate and lost one to the Democrats. In the House, the Republicans have a net gain of sixteen or more.

States which have gone Republican apparently on the Senatorship include Colorado, Delaware, Illinois, Oregon, Kansas, Rhode Island, Michigan, South Dakota Missouri Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, West Virginia and Wyoming. In Idaho, the Republicans seem to have elected both Borah and Gooding and in New Hampshire both their candidate. The Democrats have won Kentucky and Massachusetts on the Senatorship. Montana and New Mexico returns are not complete enough to be satisfactory.

New York Nov. 6.—Indications late last night are that the next House of Representatives will be exceedingly close.

Returns show a Republican gain of five in Kansas and a probable gain of two in West Virginia and one in Kentucky.

Although the figures thus far received are not conclusive, indications are that the next House might stand 214 Republicans and 211 Democrats.

The Republicans have elected Capper, in Kansas, Senator and Lawrence C. Phipp, of Colorado, a gain of two seats, and claim to have excellent chances in Rhode Island, Kentucky and New Hampshire.

CAPT. CONRAD KILLED

Winchester Soldier Falls in Meuse Battle.

As has been stated in the Gazette, Capt. Robert Y. Conrad, of Company A Winchester (Va.) National Guard unit with the Blue and Gray Division has been killed in action in the fighting along the Meuse river, according to a message received by Mrs. Conrad, who was Miss Helen McLaughlin, of Baltimore, before her marriage. The message came from Capt. Murray Cobb, one of Captain Conrad's friends, who told Mrs. Conrad that he had seen her husband fall in battle. The War Department has not yet received any official news of the death of the Winchester soldier.

Captain Conrad comes from fighting stock in Virginia. His father was the late Major Holmes Conrad, who was solicitor General of the United States under President Cleveland and was recognized as one of the most brilliant lawyers of the country. Major Conrad served with distinction in the Confederate Army.

LET THE WHOLE THING GO

Tonight when all the stars above
Look down with mystery and with love
O may they find a world that seems
More hallowed as it lies in dreams
For having broken with just might
The wrong that stood against the right,
And having cleansed with peace again
The red heart of the earth and man
Of all the blood and fire and greed,
Till wounds no longer gape and bleed,
Till flowers no longer fade and die,
Till stars grow happy in the sky,
And singing on their way drop down
At dawn beneath the rim of town

Arrangements have been made in Washington to sound a powerful siren as soon as it is definitely known in the capital city that Germany has accepted the terms for an armistice as prepared by President Wilson. This announcement is liable to be made at midnight or during the early morning hours while the stars are still in the sky.

We would suggest that Alexandria test her sirens also on this occasion. The Southern Railway Company has long used one of these devices at its depot in this city, and the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation has placed a similar contrivance at their plant in the southeastern section of the city. It is suggested that as soon as the news of Germany's surrender reaches Alexandria that these whistles put on their entire strength and send forth the blasts of victory.

It is stated by those in positions to know that Germany's capitulation is imminent. The news is liable to be flashed across the Atlantic at any minute. Our country as well as the civilized world is now in suspense awaiting the joyful tidings.

The skies are becoming more clear all the time, and as Thanksgiving Day approaches we realize that this will be one of the most joyful of all occasions since the birth of our nation. The Christmas of 1918, if all signs do not fail, will be another day of enthusiasm. The occasion will be the anniversary of the birth of the Prince of Peace, and while we gather around festive boards we will realize that the world has been made safe by the elimination of the greatest menace to peace and human liberty that ever disgraced the earth.

It is possible that on this last occasion some, at least, of our Alexandria boys will mingle in glad reunion. This, at any rate, will be part of our pleasant dreams as the year draws towards it close.

We want no German toys on this glorious occasion, and will only look upon our experience with the Hun nation as a horrible dream.

PERIOD OF "HONOR"

The German Emperor "bows to the people," according to the headlines in the newspapers, the "bow" in question being his acceptance of the constitutional amendment curtailing his "divine right" to behave as hellishly as he pleased. It will be noted, however, as is suggested by an exchange, that he signs himself as heretofore "Wilhelm I. R.," which being interpreted means, in colloquial phrase, "the whole show." It will also be noted that his view of what the German Government has done during the last four years and his ideas as to what Germany should do in the future have undergone no change. Referring to these last four years, he says:

"Thus comes to a close a period which will stand in honor before the eyes of future generations. Despite all struggles between invested authority and aspiring forces, it has rendered possible to our people that tremendous development which imperishably revealed itself in the wonderful achievements of this war."

As the German people consider the last four years a period of "honor," if they model their future "achievements" after those in France, Belgium, Serbia, Poland and on the seas, then they are still and will continue to be a menace to mankind.

The Kaiser, however, is presumably speaking only for himself. He is cunningly trying to placate and wheedle those he has led into the pit of ruin. There can be no peace with him or his house. He and the rest of the Hohenzollerns must go before Germany can be regarded as safe.

PEACE PRINCIPLES

President Wilson's proferred peace terms are published today. They are drastic, and necessarily so, as they notify Germany that she must pay for damage on land, sea and from air. The executive refers the enemy to Foch, who has armistice terms ready for commanders in the field. The Huns must accept or reject the terms as they stand. To continue to fight on would be madness.

There are people in this country as well as others in the lands of our allies who may think the terms too crushing, but such critics should stop and consider. What would have been the condition of the allies had Germany emerged from this war victorious? What course has that greedy nation pursued towards those she has vanquished? We all know her procedures in Denmark, Austria and France when prostrate under the mailed fist.

But think of conditions the United States would be facing even had our country not been forced into the struggle. The allied fleet would have been surrendered to the Huns and in the peace conference England might have been forced to turn over Canada, Bermuda, and Jamaica, to the conquerers, while the French flag would have been removed from Martinique to be succeeded by Hun colors. The United States, according to the Teuton program, would have been forced to pay an enormous indemnity for furnishing the allies with munitions and other supplies, which demand our enemies would have attempted to enforce by the German navy in conjunction with the ships surrendered by the allies.

Thornton W. Burgess, a writer for the National Security League, has written an article which he heads "The Red Flag of Premature Peace," in which he says: A peace made in Germany by the Allied forces is the only peace which can be contemplated with any feeling of security. A peace made anywhere other than on German soil is impossible to conceive of. Yet that this may happen is dangerously probable if the present Allied successes continue, as there is every reason to believe they will, and the American people turn too willing an ear to the German peace-cry. The word of the Hun is an abomination in the halls of truth. During four years of a world calamity this has been proven over and over again.

For the sake of future generations of all the peoples of the earth there can be no peace save one that is wholly and absolutely dictated by the Allies. There can no compromise with a cornered rattle-snake. He is not less dangerous because bruised and crushed. He is safe only when his fangs have been drawn. Even then he is a menace to the future, for new fangs will grow. Germany is the rattle-snake among nations.

The pressure on the leaders of the Allied governments is going to be tremendous. The pacifists at home are going to be a greater menace than the enemy armies in the field unless the people as a whole see with clear vision and stand firmly for a peace which will make it impossible for the Beast of Berlin to ever again break his chains. Premature peace talk is the red flag of danger. It must be fought even as the enemy in the field is fought.

"THERE'S A GREAT DAY COMING"

As Foch has shortened to victorious weeks the racking months of our foreboding, faith has been quickened into hope. The fruits we thought to gather in some vaguely-distant harvest are ripening fast. The peace we dared not mention, so remote did it seem, is heralding its coming in a thousand instant sounds. The vengeance of a God of Justice is at hand. The war of righteousness is won.

When we shall see in a signed treaty the evidence of victory and the promise of lasting peace, we shall reckon this war worth all it has cost, and when we shall welcome our boys home, we shall forget the doubts, the numbing darkness and the dread suspense of that grim season of the Hun's advance. What a day will it be when Virginia's veterans return to her! this old commonwealth of our will rejoice as never it has since that panting rider dashed into Richmond with news that Cornwallis had surrendered. The day of the great review in Richmond will be as memorable as March 25, 1775, when Henry sounded the tocsin of revolution, or April 17, 1861, when the old State put on her armor of self defence.

But to some the day of our boy's return and every day thereafter will bring the misery of remorse. Some who think that peace will bring reunion will find it brings division and some who would rejoice that seas no longer separate us from our lads will find a wider gulf fixed. For our Virginia soldiers are to return to us in a new knowledge of men and of service and in that knowledge they will judge us. With unerring eye will they measure our manhood. They will know which of us have stayed at home because we were cowards and which of us because we had a larger work to do. They will discern which of us have served and which have idled. And they will love or despise, honor or detest as they shall find us false or true. Their verdict will be our fate. Denied fellowship with them, we shall have no part in the new age.

The moral equivalent of war is to be found only in constancy of service. No gift from a man's abundance ever exalts; no shrewd investment, in the guise of patriotism ever deceives. No single act of display and no passing share in broad "good works" will raise a man to the place of those who have met the eternities on the field of battle. Those returning boys of ours will mock at us if we claim comradship with them because we subscribed to a loan, or served on a committee, or made a speech or increased a crop for which we received the highest prices of record. The boys will say, "We spent winter months in the mire of frosty trenches; we faced the week-long bombardment of the Hun; we knew privation and cold and hunger, daily, hourly, incessantly—what did you do?" And we must hold our tongue and lose all claims upon them, even though they be our sons and brothers, unless in our hearts we know that our service was not less constant, if less gallant, than was theirs. The daily discipline of self for country is what distinguishes them; We cannot be distinguished by less.

This daily discipline of self, this constancy of service, are virtues not beyond attainment by the true patriot. They must be deliberately sought, yet not ostentatiously expressed. They must be ascetic and yet not Pharisaical. They must, in short, represent a constant effort on our part to forego our pleasure for our nation and to stint our bodies for our souls. To this end nothing is more serviceably useful and few things are more vital than individual self-denial, the fruits of which are invested in War Savings Stamps.

Does this seem a prosy moral to a lofty tale? Does it seem a ludicrous contract to the service our boys are rendering overseas? It is, if it be measured in the concrete result, substantial thought that be. But it is not this concrete result we need: It is the spirit that yields the result. By drawing one's check for $1,000 against an ample balance in bank, and by purchasing War Savings Stamps with the proceeds, one helps one's country and one's finances but not one's spirit. But by saving $1,000, dollar by dollar, and by investing it in War Saving Stamps, one practices a self-restraint and exhibits a constant thought of country that ennobles spiritually even more than they benefit financially. It is, in short, not what a man purchases, but why and when and how he purchases that give him something of the moral equivalent of War. Withal, virtue is its own reward—if we are selfish enough to claim it— or an investment of one's patient savings in War Savings yield a better return than any security of even relatively the same strength in the world. Ten years ago, so profitable an investment would have seemed unbelievable.

RESULT OF ELECTION

By a surprising vote, with the country at war, but with peace probably not far distant, and with a peace treaty to be negotiated and a great program of reconstruction legislation to be enacted, the Democratic party may experience difficulty in retaining its grip on the House and Senate.

Democrats, however, should not lose hope, as we may find the tables turned by tomorrow, as the official figures are at present unobtainable.

In 1916, it will be remembered, the early returns in the Presidential election made it appear that Hughes had been elected President. There was rejoicing on election night on the part of republicans, but next day cleared the sky and it was seen that Wilson had been selected to succeed himself. The Gazette on the following day printed an article in this column headed "The Cock that Crowed Too Soon," referring to an incident in the career of the late Admiral Dewey who by an inadvertance cast all the fat in the fire in connection with his chances for President. The cock may be crowing too soon on this occasion.

MEAT STILL SOARING

(Communicated)

It is safe to say that but once before in the history of the world, that the price of meat was as high, that is, if the story handed down to us in our boyhood days is true, and that was when the "Cow jumped over the moon." It naturally causes one to remark on Shakespeare—

"Now in the name of all the gods at once
Upon what meat does this our Caesar feed
That he has grown so great."

that Caesar could not afford in these days to get fat on meat at city prices. We notice in passing far more "lean and hungry Cassiuses" than fat Caesars.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Dispatches late yesterday show that there is a general belief in the neutral countries that the Kaiser has abdicated. No official confirmation was obtainable.

A demonstration was held before the Bismarck Monument in Berlin on Sunday in favor of continuing the war and a resolution was passed protesting against the acceptance of a humiliating peace, according to a Copenhagen dispatch.

Four persons were killed yesterday at Bound Brook, N. J., in an explosion which demolished part of the plant of the Metal Disintegrating Company, a concern making aluminum alloys.

Fifty-five German airplanes were brought down by the British Monday, Field Marshal Haig announces. The British lost thirty-nine machines. Forty-seven tons of bombs were dropped by British machines on various targets.

Spanish influenza has wiped out the entire family of seven of Mr. and Mrs. John Linza, near Stringtown, W. Va. Following the deaths of two sons within four days, father, mother and two other boys died on the same day. Next day the baby, last of the family, died.

Twelve hundred Italian officers and 12,000 men, having overpowered their guard in the prisoners' camp three miles from Vienna, have left the camp, and are marching in the direction of Horn, 46 miles northwest of the capital, according to a dispatch from Vienna.

More than 500,000 Austrian prisoners, booty valued at several billions of dollars, and more than 250,000 horses are in the hands of the Italians, according to dispatches received in Washington yesterday at the Italian embassy. The total represents the Italian army's bag before the armistice terms went into effect.

Levi Brown, 21, son of Mrs. Margaret Brown, died early yesterday at Lanaconing, Md., of pneumonia. He left three weeks ago with draftees for Fort Washington, but was sent home because of physical disability. He is the third brother to die within three weeks. Private William Brown, died in France and Ralph Brown at his home.

Berlin dispatches continue to hint at an approaching break between Bavaria and Prussia. The Frankfurter Zeitung says the President of the Bavarian council has arrived at Berlin to confer with the German leaders concernng the results of the Austrian armistice as affecting Bavaria, which would be the first country to suffer from an allied invasion through Austria. The Frankfort paper adds that military measures, already have been taken.

A snow storm was encountered at an altitude of 7,000 feet yesterday by Ed. Gardner, pilot in the air mail service between Washington and New York. Leaving New York in a cold rain Gardner later flew forty minutes through snow so thick that he was unable to see the wings of his plane. Extensive preparations have been made by the air mail service to equip planes for winter flights. Heating devices have been installed in each plane.

Emperor Charles found the conditions of the armistice offered by the Allies so harsh and considered them so dishonorable that he would not sign them, says a Vienna dispatch to the Berlin Tageblatt. The Emperor declared he no longer wished to exercise his authority as supreme commander of the Army. The conditions were finally signed by Field Marshal Arz Von Straussenburg, the chief of staff. The dispatch denies rumors that Emperor Charles had abdicated and was leaving for Switzerland.

Germany's supply of fuel oil and gasoline is cut off by the Austrian armistice, according to information in the hands of the Fuel Administration. The German supply has been coming from Galatia and Rumania, and she was planning to import extensively from the fields in the Caucasus. With the Austrian borders closed to her, all these supplies will be stopped. Supplies of lubricating oil will also be curtailed. She has been using a derivative of coal tar, benzol, but this source has not supplied all her wants.

Four men were killed, three were injured and two narrowly escaped being injured yesterday morning when an automobile in which nine colored men were riding collided with a street car at Ninth and R streets northwest, Washington. The accident occurred at 4:20 o'clock in the morning and the two uninjured occupants of the machine stated that the automobile was not speeding. The crew of the street car stated that they were not going over 15 miles an hour and the automobile appeared so suddenly that they did not have time to stop the car.

VIRGINIA NEWS

At Monday's sitting of the grand jury at Harrisonburg, Dr. L. E. Walton and his wife, Mrs Lola Walton, were indicted for unlawfully beating, wounding and ill treating Frances Offen, 11 years old, whom they had taken to raise from the Maybe Home in Richmond. On last Friday night the little girl left home, sleeping in a stable and arriving at a neighbor's house at 3 o'clock Saturday morning, where she told of her ill treatment. The county sheriff was summoned, who examined the child and presented his finding before the grand jury.

Uncle Sam will spend several million dollars more in the Norfolk section. The War Department announced yesterday that the sum of $3,600,000 will be spent there for the development of a proper and efficient water system so that the army and navy bases there will have plenty of water. The sum of $1,800,000 will be spent in developing the water system of Norfolk and Portsmouth. The dams of a number of lakes in Nansemond county will be built higher and larger water mains leading to the two cities will be used in the development of the Harwood's Mill project at Orianna, where increased water supply will be obtained for the various Government activities in the vicinity of Newport News. The sum of $600,000 will be spent to increase the water supply of Langley Field and Fort Monroe. The sum of $150,000 will be used to enlarge the pumping stations at Newport News.

A WORD WITH WOMEN.

Valuable Advice for Alexandria Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Alexandria woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. Milton Moor, 123 Duke street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a household medicine for kidney trouble in our family. I have taken them on several occasions for backache and other kidney disorders with every beneficial results. I am quite sure Doan's will help anybody who gives them a trial. I know they are a medicine of merit."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Moor had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

CONDITIONS IN GERMANY

Unrest Parallel to Petrograd's State Before March Revolution

London, Nov. 6.—Conditions in Germany parallel the situation in Russia before the March revolution, according to a neutral just returned from Berlin. His conclusions are summed up in the Daily Mail.

Huge quantities of leaflets are distributed in the streets similar to the propaganda sheets scattered through Petrograd last year. They demand an amnesty, and the formation of soviets.

German army desertions are comparable only to those from the Russian army in the summer of 1917. The military police are searching every house for evidence of Bolshevist plots. The military party is not expected to give way without a struggle, but will probably take steps to precipitate events.

The Daily Express learns from its Copenhagen correspondent the streets of Berlin are crowded with war cripples, and "the people can no longer endure the sight."

The shops have no food to sell, and chemical substitutes are becoming scarcer daily. The street cars are falling to pieces, the material being obsolete. The asphalt is torn from the streets so as to be used for military purposes. Steel tires replace the rubber wheels of motor cars. Many former rich society women are compelled to earn a living as street car conductresses. Immorality runs riot.

Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 6.—The German government, according to a Berlin dispatch late last night, has issued a proclamation warning the people against Bolshevist disorders.

ENTERS BEAR PIT

French Poilu Who Goes After Trench Knife Torn to Pieces.

Paris, Nov. 5.—A French soldier named Pastoury had faced death and the Germans so often that he didn't think it was any trick at all to climb into a polar bear bit in the Paris Zoo. He was home on leave and was leaning over the pit rail when he accidentally dropped his trench knife inside. Laughingly he climbed down to get it.

A bear pounced on him, and before American soldiers could drive the brute off with revolvers the poilu was literally torn to pieces.
